liquors. Both can not succeed, as the methods are too antagonistic. One must give way to the other or both will fail. The question as to which shall take the field, is an important one, and still the temperance people are unable to meet it. They aim to do a good work, but their methods are so at variance that there is not much hope of either winning success. The ultra ones those who want to suppress the manufacture and sale of liquor at one blow—will probably never see their hopes realized in Wisconsin. Those who want to move in that direction by more temperate and practical methods have the best prospect of success, and have the moral support of a great many who do not consider themselves inside the temperance movement. It strikes the thinking and reasonable man that a half a loaf is better than no bread at all; and the principle of a feast or a famine means a famine.

THE PRESIDENT.

Special to the Gazette.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 31, 8:30 a. m.—The President passed a tranquil night and this morning his condition is quite as favorable as yesterday at this hour; pulse 100; temperature 98; respiration 18.

A GOOD DECISION.

The Members of the Cabinet Propose to Be Hopeful to the Very Last.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—It is said that the cabinet officers have decided in deference to Mrs. Garfield's wishes not to give utterance to despondent sentiments again, no matter what occurs, for when the President was at his worst and the doctors gave him up, Mrs. Garfield chose not to consider the case hopeless, and the members of the cabinet have decided that it would be in bad taste for them to speak of the matter in this way when Mrs. Garfield herself chose to assume that there is always hope while there is life. It may be expected from this time hence, therefore, that nothing out of a hopeful character will be let drop from the lips of the cabinet.

DR. BOYNTON.

He Claims Good and Substantial Grounds for the President's Recovery.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—Dr. Boynton said to-night that he thought there were good and substantial grounds for expecting the President's recovery. The President, it was true, was no better than yesterday, and was not getting strength very fast, but his symptoms were favorable in every way. The wound, he said, was not doing as well as could be desired; indeed it was not progressing at all at present. The great gap of three inches in length was of a pale and ghastly appearance, and had not made any apparent effort toward granulation. The discharge was not improved. The suppuration in the parotid gland was very liberal, and the doctors hoped that the septic taint was being cleared from the blood by it. The patient was bright and cheerful and seemed determined to live, and as he could see indications of no new complication, he thought the recovery was certain.

Dr. Boynton said to-day that the bulletin had not always told the truth about the degree of the President's rest at night. He said the fact was, the doctors who made the bulletins went to sleep about midnight, and nothing more was seen of them, unless they were called in case of an emergency, until 6 o'clock, in the morning. In the meantime he was with the patient. He declared that up to two or three days ago for nights the same scene was going through within the sick room. The President would dream and talk in his sleep all the time. He usually thought he was holding cabinet meetings. He would talk on matters of a public character, chiefly with Blaine, and would keep this up for hours, with only a few intervals. Finally, about 3 o'clock he would say: "Good morning; we will adjourn the meeting for to-day, and the doorkeeper will close the doors." The doctor would get up, walk round the room, and say: "Mr. President, the doors are closed." He would then say: "I will now take a little sleep," and would rest well until about 6 o'clock. At this time the doctors would appear, and, finding him in good condition and sleeping well, would announce that he has slept well and had passed a comfortable night, when in fact they were only predicting their opinion on the appearance of the patient at the time they saw him.

JAMES AND ARTHUR.
The Bucks were Very Naughty Last Saturday.
New York, Aug. 30.—The World says: "It is rumored that Postmaster General James' midnight mission to New York last Saturday night was to give Vice President Arthur the details of the steps for him to take in event of the death of the President, then expected by the cabinet to be near at hand. It was also rumored that, while the James was in the city, some allusion was made in conversation to the future course of the cabinet, especially as to James' position in it. James intimated a desire to remain at his present post, to finish up the work he had begun, but it is stated that a direct intimation was made to him that some other person would be found to relieve him of his duties. It is further reported that there have been several developments in regard to changes in the cabinet in the event of Vice President Arthur becoming President, and that the facts in the case will soon come to light. Among other reports is one that Grant was asked at one of the consultations of the stalwarts what should be done for him, and he answered that his hands were full with his Mexican enterprise."

THE HURRICANE.

Wrecks and Loss of Life On the South Atlantic Coast.

SAVANNAH, Ga., Aug. 30.—Every arrival continues to bring accounts of the disaster by the storm. The Junonia, from New York, arrived to-day. She broke down at 5:10 on the evening of the 28th. She brought the crew of the schooner Hannah M. Solis, bound from Jacksonville to New York with lumber, which she took off on the 28th. Captain Solis was lost overboard. James G. Harris, mate of the schooner Mary G. Fisher, from Philadelphia for Wilmington, N. J., laden with coal, was picked up at sea on the 29th by the steamship Santiago de Cuba and brought to this port. He was on a piece of the cabin of the schooner and was picked up. The schooner foundered on the 28th off Frying Pan shoals and all hands lost except Harris. It is estimated over 100 lives were lost in this vicinity by the gale. Between twenty and thirty inquiries held. With the exception of seven, all are negroes washed off plantations.

SHEDDING BLOOD.

A Milwaukee Man Kills His Step-Father and Mortally Wounds His Mother.

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 30.—To-night the South Side was the scene of a terrible tragedy. J. Kraemer, keeper of a saloon and store on Clinton street was instantly killed outright by his stepson, Herman Holden, and his wife mortally wounded. Holden arrived from St. Louis in the evening and called at Kraemer's. As if an old feud had been forgotten, he asked that his mother be called out of bed, and called for drinks. When his mother appeared he shot her twice in the breast and then shot Kraemer dead. Holden then rushed from the house and is still at large. Ever since the marriage of his mother to Kraemer he has shown his mother hate, and the tragedy to-night seems to have been the culmination of his wrath.

A MURDEROUS "MILL."

Sixty-Five Sheep Killed and Sixty-three Wounded by a Locomotive.
LINCOLN, Aug. 31.—A gentleman recently from the North Platte country tells of the destructive accident which occurred on the Union Pacific last week, near Central City. A man by the name of Gordon has a flock of 1,316 sheep which he has been pasturing in that vicinity. Friday morning he was endeavoring to drive them across the track when he saw the 7 o'clock train approaching. It seems that the sheep, when Mr. Gordon and his three men attempted to drive them off the track, began to "mill." This is a trick which sheep have, and consists of the outside sheep running around the sheep in the middle, which remains stationary. It is very hard to turn them when they get milled at this. Not being able to stop the train in time to save the sheep, the engineer whistled off brakes, and put on all steam went through the flock at the rate of thirty miles an hour. Sixty-five sheep were killed outright and sixty-three were wounded.

FIRE.

OSHKOSH, Wis., Aug. 30.—There were five fires here to-day during a terrific windstorm, and a big scare was occasioned similar to that of the big fire of 1875. The only one of magnitude was the destruction of a ware-house containing a couple of car-loads of wagons, consigned by Chicago parties to dealers here, and a quantity of baled hay. The dwelling and barn of James Blake and the dwelling of Gustave Grunsky were destroyed, aggregating about $7,000 loss. Insurance as follows: German-American, $1,450; British America, $1,500; American, $300; St. Paul Fire and Marine, $700; Northwestern National, of Milwaukee, $400.

THE INDIAN SCARE.

OSHKOSH, Aug. 30.—A gentleman down from the Keshena reservation, within two days, says the Indian scare there is all a farce. He, with other whites, witnessed the dream dance by the Indians. There were only one hundred, thirty of whom, all told, were engaging in the dance. The Indians were in good humor, and made speeches welcoming the whites to witness their dance. The only trouble was that Agent Stephens, per government order, tried to stop the dance, but the Indians refused; no demonstrations, however, were made. Stephens went to the nearest telegraph office, Clintonville, and reported to the department, taking his family merely as a precaution to Shawano. The only excitement was caused by the governor sending troops. The report that Stephens and daughter are prisoners is believed to be nonsense. The whole reported Indian scare is treated here by men well posted at Keshena as a farcical overdrawn.

One of these, Gray's peak, has an altitude of 14,341 feet. The water of Green Lake is as clear as crystal, and large rock masses and a petrified forest are distinctly visible at the bottom. The branches of the trees are of dazzling whiteness, as though cut in marble. Salmon and trout swim among them. In places the lake is 200 feet deep.

Popes as well as Protestants are not inappreciative of a mild joke. When the present pontiff was cardinal, and legate at Brussels, the following incident occurred: He was one day writing in his study, when a house-painter who was employed in painting the exterior of the legation slid down the rope and looked at his eminence. The cardinal turned round and the man slipped down the rope quickly, muttering, "What an ugly mug for a cardinal!" His Eminence started from his chair and went toward the door, determined to have the fellow discharged; but as he went just a mirror he looked at himself, and confessing that his "mug" was ugly smiled, and resumed his seat, continuing to write as if nothing had happened.—Harper's Magazine.

ened this morning, and broke into a run, which came to a stop on River street, by a collision with a reaper standing beside the walk. The only damage was a broken drive wheel on the mower.

—The horrible discovery has been made that some of Beloit's freeman took some beer into the engine house on Sunday, and drank it there. Excitement runs high, but it is thought that if the offense is not repeated, quiet will be restored without calling out the militia.

—Mr. Ward has to withdraw his promise to have Court street bridge in condition to-day so that teams could pass over.
The masons who were to have the stone approach at the east end in condition for laying the timbers there, have failed to accomplish the work and another delay is caused. It is expected that a day or two will be the extent of this delay.

—Otherwise the work is progressing satisfactorily.

—C. M. Albenson, of the Citizen's League, Chicago, who worked up cases against several Edgerton parties selling liquor without license, has been serving as detective at Clinton, and as a result complaints have been made against the hotel keepers, T. R. Morgan, and Loto Taylor, and against Woodward the druggist. This afternoon Taylor and Woodward pleaded guilty and were fined $20 and $15 respectively, and costs added.

—Dr. Palmer was called last night to see a man named Lawler, about seven miles from Woodstock, who had received a blow claimed to have been given by a man named Casey. He found Lawler suffering from a fracture of the base of the skull, with little prospects of recovery. The Cases moved from Fort Atkinson to this farm, which they rented of the Lawler family, and there has been some bitter feeling between landlord and tenants. The old lady Lawler has been occupying a house on the farm, which was burned down some weeks ago, and the old lady barely escaped with her life, receiving some bad burns. It is claimed by the Lawlers that the Cases were responsible for this.

—Father Munich, of St. Mary's church, is getting to be quite an agriculturist.
He has raised some "snake" beans this year, which have reached a remarkable growth. He showed us one pod to-day, which measures two feet in length. He also has some cotton which will blossom in the course of a week. It was raised from seed brought from Georgia by the Guards on the return from their visit to the sunny south.
Father Munich ought to add some of his agricultural curiosities to the attractions of the coming county fair.

—The band concert and dance in the court house park last evening drew out a crowd of young and old, and all enjoyed it heartily. There was no great rush for the platform, made for the dancers, and it was with difficulty that a start was made, but when the ball once opened a sufficient number joined to make it interesting and to defray the expenses of the music and platform. There are now five remaining concerts in the series, and these will be given free in all respects.
Two of them will probably be on the Corn Exchange grounds, and three in the park.

—The business men's meeting called for last evening at the council chamber was a fizzle, there being only a few present. It was apparent that the attempt to public meetings, was not their best way, and on motion adjournment was taken sine die. There are five men, who have enterprise, who do not propose to let the matter drop, however, and if it cannot be best done by public meetings, will work it up by personal interviews. It is time that Janesville's business men and capitalists wake up to the situation, and appreciate the opportunities which are all about them, and if it is to be hoped that they will look at the facts squarely and fairly, and rally in support of the manufacturing interests of the city.

—The attendance at the jubilee services at St. Patrick's church is large, and the members manifest by their presence and devotion, a spirit truly commendable on such an occasion. Last evening Rev.
James Cloary, of Kenosha, preached an instructive and interesting sermon, and this evening he will again entertain his listeners. This morning Father Tanager, of Delavan, preached, and to-morrow morning Rev. Joseph Keenan, of Fond du Lac, will give the closing sermon.

TEMPERANCE WORKERS.

The Delegates of the Convention Now in Session in This City.

Last evening the convention of temperance folk was continued by a public meeting in the Congregational church, which was fairly attended. An excellent quartet consisting of Mrs. H. A. Smith, Miss Wiley, and Messrs. Ferguson and Rice rendered pleasing music, and several speakers gave appeals in favor of a prohibitory law. As is common with meetings where several enthusiastic speakers are present, the talk was too prolonged, and many in the audience could not wait until the finally, but aside from this feature, the meeting was well conducted and proved interesting.

Worthy Chief Templar, T. D. Kanouse, of Appleton, first spoke. He gave a very radical, earnest, bold talk in favor of prohibition. He presented some facts and figures concerning the working of the prohibition law in Maine, showing that it was a success there, and urged that nothing short of prohibition in this State would satisfy the true temperance people.

Rev. E. L. Eaton, of Madison, followed with another plea for prohibition. He felt encouraged at the signs of progress.
He paid a tribute to Thurlow W. Brown, who lived and worked and died at Fort Atkinson, and who in his day was a most fearless advocate of prohibition, and yet so unpoplar was the cause then, that his name had almost become forgotten.
The same sentiments which were cheered to-day by every audience, fell lifeless from the lips of that wonderful orator.

The applause of the evening, approving just such sentiments, showed progress.
Mr. Eaton made several arguments and met several objections, involved in the question of prohibition. He declared a prohibitory law a speedy way of educating the people in temperance principles. He denounced the present license law, and thought nothing worth fighting for could be gained by enforcing it. He did not care whether it was enforced or not. He knew there were gentlemen in the convention who would take issue with him on this, but as long as the government allowed any liquor to be sold, he did not care whether it was sold to minors or adults, to sober men or drunken, before ten o'clock or after midnight, Saturdays or Sundays. The whole thing was wrong, and there was nothing to be gained by fighting to restrict it. He believed in demanding of the political parties that they nominate men who would pledge themselves to favor the presenting of the question of prohibition to a vote of the people. If the temperance folk were refused this request, and thus kicked out of the conventions, they should then start a new party.

Hon. S. D. Hastings corrected one statement of the preceding speaker. He had known Thurlow W. Brown, and he knew that the prohibition principles advocated by him were as popular twenty-eight years ago as now. It had been the feeling for these many years, among the best people, that prohibition should be the law, and it was time that legislators recognized the fact.

Rev. O. G. May, of Fulton, called attention to the fact that there was a division of sentiment in the convention, some believing in jumping at once into prohibition, and fighting directly for that end; the other believing in securing the same end by gradual means, enforcing the present law and securing such further restrictive legislation as could be gained from time to time. It was too late to discuss the matter at length, but he expressed himself in favor of the enforcement of the present laws strictly.

Mr. Paxton spoke briefly against Mr.
Eaton's opinions. He thought that the practical work being done by the Citizens' League, of Chicago, in preventing the sale of liquor to boys and inebriates, was resulting in more good than all these meetings in which mere talk was indulged in. More work and less theories, was what was needed.

Adjournment was then taken until this morning.

This forenoon's session was not largely attended, there being about forty present, but the proceedings proved of interest to the workers in the cause. Mrs.
Pinkham, of Fond du Lac, who is one of the most interesting and speakers in the State, gave an excellent temperance talk.
Miss Dow, of Cookville, gave a very well written paper on the relation of woman suffrage to the temperance question.

Rev. Mr. Teeter, of Edgerton, gave some facts and figures concerning the expense of the liquor traffic.

A county organization was effected and the following officers were elected: President—J. O. Plumb, Milton.
Vice President—B. S. Hoxie, Cooks-ville.
Secretary—George J. Kollogg, Janesville.
Treasurer—James Sutherland, Janes-
ville.

The rest of the forenoon session was devoted to a discussion of the question, "What are we doing, and what can we do?"

do for our foreign born citizens?" Mr.
Plumb, Mr. Paxton, and others joined in this.

This afternoon's session of the Convention, the closing one, was given mainly to talk concerning the enforcement of the present law regulating saloons. Rev.
O. G. May gave an able address, and Mr.
Paxton, of Chicago, gave some interesting facts concerning the work of the Citizens League in Chicago.

Deaf as a Post.

Mrs. W. J. Lang, Bethany, Ont., states for fifteen months she was troubled with a disease of the throat, causing entire deafness. In ten minutes after using Thomas' Eucalypti Oil, she found relief, and in a short time she was entirely cured and her hearing restored.

m. to-day at 73 degrees above; at 7

The indications to-day are, fair, weather, winds mostly southwesterly, stationary temperature, and stationary or higher pressure.

It is admitted that when the mind is wholly devoted to one object, with talent and perseverance, excellence will be attained. Dr. Price has devoted many years to the exclusive treatment of chronic diseases, and his success in the most aggravated cases is said to be most extraordinary. Those who are afflicted with lingering diseases should not fail to see Dr. Price on his next visit at Janesville, Myers House, on Saturday, the 10th of September.

Cured of Drinking.

"A young friend of mine was cured of an insatiable thirst for liquor, which had so prostrated him that he was unable to do any business. He was entirely cured by the use of Hop Bitters. It stayed all that burning thirst; it took away the appetite for liquor; made his nerves steady, and he has remained a sober and steady man for more than two years, and has no desire to return to his old life. I know of a number of others that have been cured of drinking by it."—From a leading R.
